DRESS GOODS AND SILKS.

Our wonderful purchase of dress goods has begun to arrive. Several huge cases arrived this morning, but we will not be able to get them on our counters till Monday. We are opening and sorting them and we find an exceptionally fine lot.

We bought these from a wholesale house that was getting squeezed in the recent money stringency and we can sell them for 25c on the dollar.

Watch Sunday paper for Monday's offer.

THE SILKS.

One of the largest importers of silk in New York sold our New York buyer a line of plain and printed silks, the first shipment of which is now on sale. Additional lines will go on sale Monday.

See Sunday's Bee for particulars.

WITH OMAHA'S EDUCATORS.

Not a Solitary School House of the Seven Ordered by the State to be Ready by Fall.

It is now eighteen months since the people of Omaha voted bonds to the amount of $400,000 for the purpose of securing funds with which to build a number of school houses. Not a solitary school house begun since the sale of those bonds is yet ready for use and Superintendent Fitzpatrick has expressed the opinion that it is doubtful, at least, if more than three of the seven buildings now under way will be ready for use by the opening of school next fall.

Architect Latenser feels confident, however, that all of the seven buildings now partially completed will be finished before they are needed next September. The policy pursued by the board with regard to letting contracts for the buildings is held responsible for this tedious delay. For more than two months the board has been trying to decide upon a system of heating and ventilation for the Long and Hickory schools. Mr. Smead's agent has succeeded in getting seven votes for his system, including automatic flushing closets and fans, but the eighth vote has been hard to get. The matter will come up next Saturday night again, when Architect Latenser will submit a report and an opinion upon the merits of the two systems submitted by the Isaac D. Smead company and the Fuller & Warren company.

While it is true that we have taken a good deal of time in building these school houses, said a member of the board yesterday, "yet it is also a fact that we have succeeded in getting a very fine lot of buildings for the money. We are today putting in Omaha better buildings for $40,000 and $50,000 than many other cities of similar size are getting for $60,000 and $70,000. The delay has doubtless caused a good deal of inconvenience, but we are going to get the worth of the money expended when all is done."

The seven school houses now partially completed and which will probably be ready for use next fall are the Central, Lathrop, Franklin, Hartman, Saratoga, West Omaha and Windsor.

School Board Economies.

"It seems to me," said a member of the Board of Education to a Bee reporter yesterday, "that the board ought to pay a little more attention to matters of economy, seeing that we are going to run short before the opening of school next year. There are a thousand and one little leaks where the funds can so easily be squandered that it requires very close watching to hold down the expenses. The board paid $30 for a band to attend the laying of the corner stone of the new Central school, and while it may seem like a very small item, yet it is just such little things that eat a tremendous hole in the treasury during the year. There are a dozen things that I could mention in this practice of a little good business judgment and economy would have saved several hundred dollars. We are not going to have any money with which to beautify the school grounds this summer, although we have spent a good deal on plans already. The funds are going to run short, there is no mistake about that, and if we get through without serious inconvenience we must practice the strictest economy from now on."

Mr. Macleod Has a Grievance.

The special committee having in charge the furnishing of the Board of Education rooms in the city hall, used linoleum instead of carpet on the floor of the office of the superintendent of buildings. All other offices have been handsomely carpeted, and Mr. Macleod is not pleased with this apparent discrimination against the tolling classes.

Secretary Conover explained that he suggested the carpet, the committee ordered linoleum instead of carpet for Mr. Macleod's room was on account of the fact that a great many laboring men will visit the superintendent of buildings' office and the chances are that they will frequently have on muddy boots. While there may be but little said about the matter to the members of the board, yet the Bee reporter was given our understanding that certain parties would see that there was a carpet on the floor of the superintendent of buildings' office within a few weeks, but no bill for the same would ever be presented to the board.

Judge Baldwin Makes a Donation.

Ex-Judge Charles A. Baldwin stepped into City Treasurer Boll's office Wednesday and paid in $100, which he desired placed to the credit of the school fund.

It was a gift to the Board of Education, and the judge in making it, said he felt as if the contribution would help along free education and assist in perpetuating the public school—the pride and hope of all America.

LEAKY STOVE DID IT.

Gasoline Gets Its Work on the Redfield Printing Company's Stock.

The much talked of gasoline stove is responsible for a very smoky blaze which took place shortly before noon yesterday in the basement of the building at the southeast corner of Twelfth and Dodge streets.

The building is a three-story and basement brick structure owned by the Redfield Printing company, which occupies the two upper floors, the basement, where the fire occurred, being occupied by the Columbia Metal Polish company. The ground floor is vacant.

There was some delay in turning in an alarm, and the fire, in consequence, made some little headway before the department arrived, but it was soon extinguished.

The stock of the metal polish company was damaged to any great extent, the goods being mostly in bottles, but the fixtures and machinery were ruined. The company's loss is about $800, against which they hold insurance to the amount of $800. No damage was done to the printing office, nor to the building above the first floor, the fire being confined to that floor and the basement. On the building the loss will be about $200. The structure is insured for about $5,000.

Mr. M. H. Redfield of the Metal Polish company says they will keep right on doing business, and will not be deterred by a gasoline stove dripping and igniting inflammable rubbish.

Fifty-Dollar Baze.

At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon engine No. 11 turned out to extinguish a small fire on the ground floor of a barn belonging to H. L. Lorie, at 3112 Emmett street. The building was damaged to the extent of $50. No explanation as to the cause of the fire could be found.

TWO SUICIDES.

Findings of the Coroner's Jury in Tiescher and Thuman Cases.

It was found by the coroner's jury in the case of Matthias Tiescher, who shot himself in the head Thursday morning, that he died by his own hand, the deed being prompted by sickness and mental worry.

Jacob Landrock, of Sixteenth and Williams streets, who will take charge of his funeral, says the dead man was a steady worker and he had acted strangely and had several times expressed the fear that the Omaha police officers were after him, when, in fact, there was no reason why they should want him at all. Another cause was found to be certificates of deposit from an Omaha bank for $100 and a bank customer's book showing deposits of $97. He was 35 years old and as far as known had no relatives in this country. He was not addicted to excessive drinking, but was troubled with poor eyesight.

Piles of people have piles, but De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve will cure them.

Strawberries for the Sheriff.

This is one of the days when Sheriff Bennett revels in a feast of strawberries and cream. Yesterday morning he was given a writ, authorizing him to levy on a car load of fresh strawberries, which had come all the way from Arkansas.

The berries are claimed by the Fruit Growers and Shippers union and a claim for $1,300 comes along with them. They are consigned to Paycke Brothers, St. John & Dickey and John Doe, but the consignees, who also appear as the defendants, will not get them, for the reason that the consignors allege that there was fraud connected with the ordering of the fruit.

TERRIBLE ITCHING

Used Everything Five Months—In Three Weeks—Not a Scar or Pimple—Cured by Cuticura.

When my baby was three months old his cheeks and forehead began to break out with white pimples and red surface. In a few days itching commenced, which was terrible. After he would put it, he would scratch himself from the points. In a short time it spread over the top of his head, then he would scratch his face and neck. We used everything we could hear of for nearly five months, but it was now worse all the time. I saw your advertisement in the "Chicago Weekly." We purchased CUTICURA Remedies and common use. In three weeks' time there was not a sore or pimple, not even a scar on head or face. He is now months old now, and has no signs of the disease. His scalp is healthy and he has a beautiful head of hair. (See portrait herewith.)
